New York Stock Market

NEW YORK, September 29.—The steck speculation started at a gallop to-day, but the strain of the pace became obvious at a very early period of the day's trading. The rush to buy and bid up prices made an excited opening, which spread prices of the speculative favorites on simultaneous transactions, which reached as much as 20,000 shares in United States Steel and 10,000 shares in Atchison. There were wide openings also in other stocks, and the top prices then made represented the highest record in some instances. This was true of United States Steel and Atchison, and Chesapeake and Ohio topped all provious prices in the course of the day. The high opening of 90 1-3 in United States Steel had been exceeded earlier in the day in the London market, where they sold at the New Work equivalent of 90 5-8. The realizing sales which that price induced in London were continued in New York on a scale downwards, and after the first half-hour this influential stock sold for the most part below last night's price. Enormous Pressure.

The first hour's business saw an enormous pressure of realizing sales in all quarters of the list, and a pause to take breath was a necessary pre-liminary to a fresh start. There were many conspicuous points of strength in the later market, but it never regained its uniform upward tendency again.

While a few stocks were aggressive ly advanced, the rest of the list held lack, and in some quarters there were signs of positive depression. Erie and Wabash securities were two prominent examples. The bond of sympathy hetween those two stocks is supposed to be the hope for the increased productivity of the properties that were Atchise founded on the interest manifested in them by the late E. H. Harriman. Financial assistance rendered to each of them by that financier in time of stress was designated in the financial district as a rescue of the properties. The present weakness of the securities is traceable to a fear that Mr. Harry. man's plans for their benefit may no be carried out, or, at least, may lack his officient aid.

Supposed dividend prospects again played an important part in the specu-lative motive forces. The favorable showing of August net earnings which the railroad companies are beginning to publish is a fostering influence on this expectation. It is expected that Atchison dividend meeting next week Atchison dividend meeting next week will lead the way in the series of meetings to which the speculation is looking forward. United States steel, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific and others were influenced by this factor to-day, and each exercised an influence on other stocks in which circumstances are analogous. The resumptions of dividends on the Westinghouse Electrons and the state of the st dividends on the Westinghouse Electric perferred stock tp-day, after being suspended since 1997, was the only tangible development in the direction of increased disbursement of profits. The effect on sentiment owed something to the recollection that the difficulties of that company made one of the premonitory symptoms of the financial crisis which developed in October of 1997.
